FEDERATION ISSUES CALL FOR CLOTHES

CHILDREN'S SHOES NEEDED BY COMMUNITY CHEST

Committees Appointed to Select Official Flower and to Investigate Signboards.

A call for discarded garments in behalf of the Community Chest was issued Wednesday by the City Federation of Women's clubs, according to Mrs. H. O. Price, publicity chairman, following the quarterly meeting of that organization in the club rooms at the courthouse.

Mrs. C. M. Dowlen, president, presided over the meeting which was opened with reports on the work of the Community Chest. It was reported that the supply of clothing is low and that the funds of the the Community Chest are almost exhausted, but that the needs are as great as ever. From the records it was shown that the chest has done and is doing a great work and that it has much more than justified its existence. The committee chairman in charge of the charity work stated that more than 189 garments have been distributed in the past month and that as many more can be used.

Children's shoes are the greatest need at the present time and the people of Canayon are requested to donate whatever they can in this direction. All articles of wearing apparel may be sent to the chest headquarters at the Gamble drug store or those having garments to give may call Mrs. C. M. Dowlen, 468-W; Mrs. H. O. Price, 273, or Mrs. W. C. Kunze, 148.

During the business meeting of the federation a committee was named to select an official flower for Canyon. The members of this committee are: Mrs. C. M. Dowlen, Mrs. C. R. Flesher and Mrs. John Knight. A committee composed of Mrs. John S. Humphreys, Mrs. Ed Harrell and Mrs. Levi Cole was appointed to investigate the erection of signboards within the city. At the present itme both national and state federations are working toward having a bill passed which will prohibit the erection of signboards within city limits and on highways.

Mrs. C. M. Dowlen, Mrs. M. E. Cleavinger and Mrs. H. O. Price are the personnel of a committee appointed to confer with County Judge S. B. Orton concerning landscaping improvements for the courthouse lawn.

Rotary Club Is Entertained By Readings, Music

Rotarians were entertained Tuesday by readings and piano selections by college people. Miss Dorris Lynne Louder, a senior of the college gave two readings and Robert Berryhill, member of the college faculty, entertained the club with several piano selections.

N. S. Griggs, Amarillo, briefly discussed the revue sponsored by the civic clubs of Amarillo and aided by clubs of the Panhandle, for the benefit of the Crippled Children's Clinic. He stated that more than 100 crippled children were cared for at the clinic held in Amarillo last week. The funds from this revue are used to carry on the work.

A sum of $25 was voted by the local club to go to this fund, by the purchase of tickets for the show which was held Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

By a vote of the club the secretary was ordered to purchase a distinctive badge for the members of the club, which are to be worn at the weekly meetings and upon special occasions and when attending district conventions and gatherings.

Visitors present Tuesday were: N. S. Griggs, Billie Hughes, G. N. Hailey, P. C. Bennett, all of Amarillo; Robert Berryhill, Miss Dorris Lynne Louder, Albert Byers, Canyon; R. O. Dunkle, Hereford; Jake Tartar, Wheeler, and G. A. Armstrong, Lubbock.

DAIRYMEN PLAN BANQUET

Plans are going forward for the annual banquet of the Randall County Dairyman's Association to be held at the College Cafeteria on Friday evening, March 20.

Members of the various committees have been busy this week arranging for the program and distributing the tickets for the affair. Col. Ernest O. Thompson, mayor of Amarillo; Dean R. P. Jarrett of the college, and T. C. Thompson of Thompson Hardware company, will be the principal speakers. W. H. Upchurch will be toastmaster.

Chamber of Commerce Joins With The Dairymen in Attempt to Check Sales Of Butter Substitutes in the County

The grocery merchants of Canyon, through the Chamber of Commerce are joining hands with the dairymen and farmers of the county to rout oleomargarine and other butter substitutes from Canyon and Randall County. L. N. George, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, announced Wednesday afternoon that practically all grocerymen in Canyon had agreed to discontinue the sale of butter substitutes after the present stocks on hand at this time had been sold, provided that all merchants would make the same agreement.

The dairymen of this county have, through their own organization, the Randall County Dairyman's association, for a short time waged a fight against the sale of butter substitutes. They believe if the increasing manufacture and sale can be checked on butter substitutes which are made almost entirely from imported products, it will tend to stabilize the dairy industry. Dairy products are the only ones produced on the farm that are anything near profit making to the farmer, but the profits are gradually nearing the point of unprofitable producting because of increased sale of butter substitutes, it is pointed out.

At the February meeting of the associaton a resolution was passed by the membership, urging Congressman Marvin Jones to work for and support a bill at that time in Congress seeking a tax of 10 cents per pound on the manufacture of yellow oleomargarine. Mr. Jones later made two strong talks in favor of the bill when it was up for debate. The bill was passed by both houses of Congress and in the closing minutes of Congress President Hoover signed the bill making it a law and requiring a tax of 10 cents per pound on the manufacture of yellow oleomargarine.

M. H. Rockwell, president of the association, states that he believes that the effect of that law will be felt in this section immediately. It is said that as soon as the bill was signed dairymen who ship cream to distant points were notified of a slight increase in price for butterfat.

"We are pleased with the work of our congressman and feel that our request for his support of a measure which vitally affects us, was duly granted in full measure" the president of the association declared.

Mr. Rockwell, who also serves on the board of drectors of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the body at a directors meeting Tuesday night and requested that a committee be appointed by President Byrle Elliston, to make a canvass of Canyon and ask that local merchants aid the farmer by mutually agreeing to discontinue the sale of butter substitutes, as soon as the stocks on hand are sold.

Secretary L. N. George states that practically every grocery merchant in Canyon agreed to the proposition as presented, readily and was glad to join the dairymen in their fight. "The next step," Mr. George said, " is to persuade our home people the value to be obtained in a pound of butter as compared to the substitute. They must realize that the purchase of a pound of butter, not only is a direct aid to the dairy farmer who either sells his product direct to the local merchant or to the creamery which in turn manufactures butter from the cream, but that they are buying more actual food value for the money expended. We owe this co-operation and consideration to our neighbors in the country."

Phillips Baby Funeral Held Wednesday

Colleen Edwina Phillips, 20 months old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips died at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo at 3:40 a. m. Tuesday after a short illness.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church here Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. C. G. Howard, pastor of the church.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, one sister, Gwendolyn, and a grandmother, Mrs. W. E. Laughery.

Interment was at Dreamland Cemetery, directed by the Griggs-Thompson Funeral home.

J. S. McCormick was carried to the St. Anthony hospital in Amarillo Sunday morning by a Griggs-Thompson ambulance.

SIDE LIGHTS of the Recreation School

Before the first half-hour of the school had elapsed, all those who had come believed that Mr. and Mrs. Jack Knapp knew exactly the best way to do things.

Miss Myrtle Murray, district supervisor of district No. 2, did not get in until Wednesday night, but she made the best of her time from then on.

Jake Tartar, county agent of Wheeler county, has had three sisters who have attended the West Texas State Teachers College. One, Miss Wertha Tartar, is a home economics major at the present time. Jake used some of his time in Canyon to visit Palo Duro.

Mrs. Julia Kelley, home demonstration agent of Hale county, and Miss Viola Jones of Wheeler county, are graduates of W. T. They have renewed old friendships all over town during the four days. Mrs. Kelley and two of her club members have driven from Plainview each day.

Miss Pauline Lokey, who formerly taught home economics in Canyon High School was here from Tulia, where she is Swisher county's home demonstration agent.

One of Potter county's young leaders who was chosen to attend school was W. J. Hill, Jr., of Bushland. The Hills have been identified with the cattle interests of the Panhandle for many years. W. J. and Carl C. Broyles drove in from Bushland each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Milner from near Kress, drove in each day for the school.

Mrs. W. R. Thornton, Leila O'Neil, and Mrs. J. Lynn Gott came from Wheeler county—one of the counties in which a great number of homes are weathering the economic depression through the excellent and variety of the canned foods in their cellars. These were grown and canned at home.

Mrs. Jack Knopp had heard Mexicans sing their folk songs, and had transcribed them. She sang some of them for the group at Canyon. She hopes to take back to New York some typical cowboy songs which have not yet been written down.

W. H. Upchurch, Randall's prize exhibit winning agent, and Mrs. Upchurch have been kept busy entertaining visitors and attending the school. Mrs. Upchurch declares she has played games she hadn't thought of since before she was married.

A lesson on the use of color was given at the school. Everyone said it was worthwhile for everybody who has to wear or buy clothes or furnishings for a home.

Board Asks Aid In School Census

During the month of March it is necessary that the scholastic census be taken, and at the present time Mr. Shanklin, secretary of the school board of the Canyon Independent School District, is endeavoring to enroll all scholastics in this district; he reports that he is having trouble gaining admittance to many homes in order to get this information, because many times the lady of the house considers him "just another peddler" at the door; please watch for him and give him this information when he comes; every scholastic enrolled means $17.50 to our district.

Revenue for the continued operation of our school is coming in very slowly, though some few are paying taxes each week; permit us to urge that those who can pay, or can arrange to pay, to please do so at the earliest possible time. Every dollar paid means money saved to the district.

Mention Hill For State Teachers' Association Head

President J. A. Hill is being prominently mentioned as a candidate for the presidency of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Superintendents of many schools, ex-students of the college here, and friends in many parts of the state are urging president Hill to allow his name to be presented to the 44,000 teachers of Texas as their leader for the year which will follow the meeting of the Association at Amarillo next November.

Those who are interested in Mr. Hill's candidacy point out that he has served the state of Texas in many capacities during a long period of time. He has taught in a rural school; has been a classroom teacher; was a successful superintendent; taught for several years in a new teachers college and built a strong department of history there, and that he has been an outstanding college president since he took his place here in 1918.

Others have pointed out that President Hill has identified himself with many organizations which are seeking in their own way to solve the problems of the state at the present time, and that the wide knowledge he has so gained would be of inestimable help should he become president of the large Texas association. He has served on committees in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Panhandle-Plains, Inc., the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and others. He is chairman of the building committee of the church to which he belongs. He is vice-president and finance chairman of The Panhandle of Texas.

Miss Jean Moore will spend the brief holiday in Fort Worth.

TODAY MARKS END OF RURAL SHORT SCHOOL

RURAL LEADERS OVER THE PANHANDLE ATTEND

First Recreation School for Rural Leaders Held Here; Started Monday.

Beginning Monday and continuing until this afternoon, Canyon has been the host city for the first Recreation School for rural leaders ever held in this section of Texas.

Arrangements for the short course were made about four weeks ago when Miss Winnie Mae Grubbs, supervisor of home demonstration work for the first district of Texas, conferred with County Agent W. H. Upchurch and President J. A. Hill.

At that time Miss Grubbs explained that the school would be limited to about fifty, and that these would be chosen from a part of the counties of Districts One and Two. District Two is composed of South Plains Counties and Miss Myrtle Murray is the supervisor. Rooms for the sessions were provided in the Education Building of the College, and rooms were furnished for the women guests who could not return to their homes at night.

At nine o'clock Monday morning those chosen to attend the school began to arrive. During the day the following registered: Mary Sitton of Amarillo; Alma Holmes, E. D. Holmes, R. L. Golleher, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Lester, Ross Ford, Marie Strange from Floydada; Buena Weems from Mickey; P. H. Gillilland, Ulip V. Pierce, R., O. Dunkle, Wilma Nell Sikes, Mrs. Buford Litrell and Emma Gunter from Hereford; Mrs. W. R. Thornton, Lelia O'Neal and J. Lynn Gott from Shamrock; Mrs. F. Roberson, Lockney; Pauline Lokey, Tulia; Viola Jones and Jake Tarter, from Wheeler; Mrs. Omra Milner, Mrs. J. P. Reid, O. Milner, Alline Wood, Mrs. Lillian Wood, from Kress; Carl C. Broyles, W. J. Hill, Jr., Myrtle Brooks, Mae Moss, from Bushland; Marcelle Kidd, Mrs. Julia E. Kelley of Plainview; Ethel Bradley, Mrs. H. A. Wallace, from Runningwater, and Oma Wilson, Mrs. L. A. Donnell, Mrs. W. T. Dungan, from Canyon, and Miss Williams from Tierra Blanca.

Those entering for the short course ranged in age from boys and girls of about fourteen to folks who had been old enough to vote for many years; all of them were trying to learn to be more useful and happy in the communities in which they live and to help others to be.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stuart Knapp, who were in charge of the course were sent to Canyon by the National Recreation Association, which is working in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture and State Extension Service.

Two two-hour sessions were held each day. Half of each session was spent in class work, then the

Canyon Pictures Exhibited by Ray Davis at Austin

The beauty spots of the Palo Duro Canyons were again viewed by a new audience through the pictures of canyon scenes when a group of pictures were on exhibit in the state capitol building in Austin last week. Ray V. Davis, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce and photographer was sent to Austin by the local Chamber of Commerce and other towns co-operating with the Palo Duro Park association, to exhibit the pictures before members of the Texas legislature in an effort to arouse more interest in the proposed legislation to create a park system in Texas.

Mr. Davis left Canyon on February 26 for Austin, arriving there two days later. He states that through the co-operation of Senator Clint Small and Representative Clyde W. Warwick he was able to secure permission to set up his exhibit of pictures of the various colored soils which are to be found in the canyons, in the capitol building.

The exhibit was on display in Austin almost a week and created much attention and drew every favorable comment from the legislators. A bill has already been introduced in the senate and should that fail to materialize, another bill will be prepared to be introduced in the house.

D. E. Colp, chairman of the state parks board, has recently made an extensive drive in an educational campaign in East Texas, using photographs and motion picture scenes from the various sites in the proposed system of state parks. Mr. Colp is directing the legislative action toward the establishment of the parks.

"Since I have been to Austin and seen the legislative machinery in action and understand their manner of working I have decided that plans that are being carried out in an attempt to secure legislation for a park system is the most reasonable course and will meet with success in the end. Our senators and representatives from this section of the Panhandle are doing all that is possible for them to do in securing such legislation," Mr. Davis declares.

Mr. Davis returned from Austin by way of Enid, Okla., in order to represent Canyon at a meeting of representatives from eight states interested in the development of U. S. Highway 60, a coast-to-coast highway. Plans now call for an all-weather route. It was estimated at the meeting that the entire highway would be an all-weather route within the next two years. Several states already have paved roads over the entire distance designated within their boundries.

The highway is routed from the east through Oklahoma across the Texas Panhandle and into New Mexico. The route is marked through Canyon. At the Enid meeting a highway association was perfected and plans outlined. The first work of the association will be directed toward securing an all-weather road along the route and then begin an advertising campaign to induce tourists to follow Highway 60.

It was pointed out at Enid that thousands daily would pass this way when they learn of the advantages of the highway and that it will attract many to see the Palo Duro Canyons.

Mr. Davis set up at the highway meeting his display of pictures, which is on exhibit at this time at his studio, where the public is invited to see them. This exhibit drew considerable comment and attention. Representatives from other states, who had never heard of the canyons became interested in them immediately.

Austin, Texas, March 9.—Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell, and J. Evetts Haley of Canyon and Austin, presented to the legislature Monday the need of a museum building to be erected on the campus of W. T. S. T. C. to house the large collection of documents and relics of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

The senate finance committee voted recommendation of $125,000 for a combined library-museum building, which amount would be augmented by $25,000 to be raised by the members of the association and citizens of the Panhandle-Plains country. This recommendation will be made to the senate in the appropriations bill.

The house appropriations committee will not act upon the item until the appropriations bill is finally drafted in about two weeks. Interest was expressed by the members of the house committee in the museum project. This is the only item pending before the legislature in which citizens seek an appropriation which will be matched dollar for dollar with the money appropriated by the legislature. The request made by Judge Hamlin called for $25,000 from the state and $25,000 from the citizens of the Plains. In view of the need of a library building, the senate finance committee believed that economy would result in the appropriation of sufficient money to build a structure sufficiently large at this time rather than one unit for the museum at the present time, and a library unit at a subsequent time.

When informed of the recommendation of the senate committee, Mr. Sheffy was highly pleased. "That's great news, and perhaps with that sum recommended there is a possibility of it going through or at least enough to justify the the erection of the museum and library," he declared.

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society has been working toward a museum building for several years and during last summer, Prof. L. F. Sheffy worked as field secretary for the society in an effort to procure funds from individuals interested in the history of the Panhandle, for the erection of the building. A large sum of money was pledged for building, but not enough, officials of the society felt to launch into a building program as large as the demands were. Several weeks ago it was announced by Mr. Sheffy that a request would be submitted to the legislature seeking an appropriation of $25,000 for the museum.

Exams of Winter Term Are to End Friday Afternoon

Final winter term examinations will be finished by tomorrow afternoon at the college and there will be a general exodus of students and faculty as Saturday, Sunday and Monday are vacation days according to the printed catalog.

This is the only rest period between Christmas and June and good use will be made of it. All departments of the college will be closed. Students who are not going home are planning long days of golf, canyon trips, excursions to Carlsbad, and all sorts of things for which there is no place during the long busy school days and months.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL FOR SUMMER SCHOOLS

Governor Sterling on Saturday signed the bill appropriating $254,000 for the 1931 summer schools of state colleges.

The amount was decided on in free conference several days after the two houses had disagreed. The total was only $4,000 more than originally provided for in the house bill.

Fifty of the people who were in Canyon for the short course this week visited the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, and several of them desired to become members of the organization.

MEMBER TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

THE FIRST SIXTY DAYS OF THE LEGISLATURE

By CLYDE W. WARWICK
(Representative 123rd District.)

The first sixty days of the 42nd The first sixty days of the 42nd Legislature will end Saturday.

The people of Texas no doubt will wonder whether or not it was a wise thing to do to pass the constitutional amendments last November to extend the regular session of the Legislature to 120 days and to increase the pay of the legislators.

From the standpoint of the public there may be some disappointment as to the results so far obtained in this first session under the new amendments, but from the standpoint of the members this session has been much more satisfactory than those in the past when it was necessary to attempt to pass upon all classes of legislation in a sixty day period.

No major bills have been passed so far this session, and none were expected to pass. Not a great number of bills have been passed, and a majority of these were local in nature or generally accepted as being of an uncontested nature. It is expected that a majority of the major bills will be passed out of the committees some time during the coming week in order that the full sixty days of the last period may be devoted to debate of these measures.

From the members' standpoint, this session has been much more satisfactory than the past sessions of the legislature. Committees are taking more time to consider bills and therefore it is expected that a better class of legislatuion will be the result of this session.

Furthermore, the members of the 42nd Legislature are taking a great deal more interest in their work than was the case of the 41st Legislature. The increase in pay has had something to do with this improvement, although the present members were nominated before this increase was adopted. There is a feeling on the part of some, perhaps, that unless the members are on their jobs that the voters will see to it that a change will be made at the next election. In order to keep a quorum during the 41st Legislature, the House was under call more days than any Legislature during the past ten years. The 42nd Legislature has not been under call a single time and the roll call shows an average of from 115 to 120 present in the hall at all times, but there have been from 125 to 130 members in Austin at all times since the opening. This is an exceptionally good attendance considering the fact that there are 150 members in the House.

Old members of the House are wondering what would have happened if this legislature were limited to 60 days period. Nearly 1000 bills have been introduced in the House. Of this number nearly 50 proposals are made to change the constitution. About 60 proposals are made to change the taxing system. Oil and gas regulation as well as pipe line bills, bus and truck regulations have brought more than 100 bills into the hopper. These must be carefully considered in the committee rooms before being submitted to the House or violence may result to existing order of business.

A large flood of legislation results from the business and economic depression. There are always more radical bills introduced in a time like this than under normal conditions. Thanks to the better judgment of a majority, most of these bills get the ax in the committee rooms or do not survive long on the floor of the House. Business interests have little to fear from adverse legislation when their case is properly presented.

Citizens who are prone to criticise their legislative bodies for slow action should compare the difference between the status of legislation today and twenty years ago. This modern intricate fast-moving 1931 life has brought to the legislative halls scores of problems which were not seen twenty years ago when booze regulation and railway regulation were about the only questions before our legislative bodies.

Governor Sterling in an interview made it plain that he considered the government is taking too much hand in our business affairs. It will be no surprise if the veto power is used very freely should new regulatory measures and new boards and new bureaus be passed which might hamper private business.

Where are we headed on this road to tax reform?

That is the big question today. Everyone agrees that the state should be run on the lowest possible appropriation.

Every bill to increase taxes or change the method of taxation is met with a large lobby of citizens in opposition to changes.

But continually the legislature is besieged with requests for additional appropriations either for existing institutions or the establishment of something new.

Land owners over the state are holding meetings for the purpose of cutting their land value renditions.

Business men who have not made money on their investments the past two years are complaining that something must be done to reduce the tax burden.

A bill is pending to reduce salaries of all state officials and employees.

It will be seen that an interesting session will be had under the big dome at Austin during the last sixty days of this session.

The finish depends as much upon the start as it does upon the activities along the route you travel

The BEST Gray Hair Remedy is Home Made

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It will gradually darken streaked, faded or gray hair and make it soft and glossy. Cousins Team Wins Intramural Finals Played Thursday

Intramural basketball was brought to a close at W. T. last Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, when the Cousins' first team defeated the Cousins' second team 26 to 9 in the finals played in the Buffalo Gym.

Seven teams competed in intramural basketball this year. The four teams competing in the semi-finals were the Cousins' first and second teams, the Polecats, and the Ramblers. Both the Cousins teams won easily from their opponents in the semi-final games, and were easily the two outstanding teams in the intramural tourney.

What the NEW HUMIDOR PACK means to Camel Smokers*

COMPARE a package of Camels with any other cigarette and note the difference in the technique of packing.

Note that Camels are completely enclosed in an outer transparent cover of moisture-proof cellophane and sealed air-tight at every point.

We call this outer shell the Humidor Pack. It differs from the ordinary cellophane pack and while it is egg-shell thin, it means a lot in terms of cigarette enjoyment.

It means, for instance, that evaporation is checkmated and that Salt Lake City can now have as good Camels as Winston-Salem.

While Camels are made of a blend of the choicest Turkish and mellowest domestic tobaccos, it is highly important, if you are to get full benefit of this quality, that these cigarettes come to you with their natural moisture content still intact. The Humidor Pack insures that. It prevents the fine tobaccos of Camels from drying out and losing any of their delightful flavor.

Aside from cheap tobacco, two factors in a cigarette can mar the smoker's pleasure:

Fine particles of peppery dust if left in the tobacco by inefficient cleaning methods sting and irritate delicate throat membrane.

Dry tobacco, robbed of its natural moisture by scorching or by evaporation gives off a hot smoke that burns the throat with every inhalation.

We take every precaution against these factors here at Winston-Salem.

The Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory chart above graphically shows you that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition

Check the* difference *yourself

It is a very simple matter to check the difference between Humidor Packed Camels and other ordinary dry cigarettes.

First of all you can feel the difference as you roll the cigarettes between your fingers. Camels are full-bodied and pliable. A dry cigarette crumbles under pressure and sheds tobacco.

If you will hold a cigarette to each ear and roll them with your fingers you can actually hear the difference.

The real test of course is to smoke them. And here's where the new Humidor Pack proves a real blessing to the smoker.

As you inhale the cool, fragrant smoke from a Camel you get all the mildness and magic of the fine tobaccos of which it is blended.

But when you draw in the hot smoke from a dried cigarette see how flat and brackish it is by comparison and how harsh it is to your throat.

If you are a regular Camel smoker you have already noticed what proper condition of the cigarette means.

But if you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack you have a new adventure with Lady Nicotine in store.

Switch your affections for just one day, then go back to your old love tomorrow if you can.

"The Crucifixion" To Be Presented On Easter Sunday

Easter Sunday, coming this year on the fifth of April, is to be marked this year with a presentation of "The Crucifixion" by the Methodist Student Choir, under the direction of Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, and with all-student soloists.

"The Crucifixion, the text of which is written by the Rev. J. Sparrow-Simpson and the music by John Stainer, is a meditation on the sacred passion of the Holy Redeemer. The music and text present very vividly the life of Jesus from the Garden to the Tomb.

An illuminated cross is to be used in the crucifixion scene when given by the Choir.

This cantata was given by the Methodist Student Choir in 1929, and parts of it in connection with the pageant in 1930.

Soloists for the program are Emmett Smith, tenor; Alfred Jameson, bass; Charlie Kiker, tenor; Estelline Harris, soprano, and Maurine Denny, alto. Thelma McMinn will act as organist.

A large number of students, according to those in charge, attended the last rehearsal, held in the Methodist Church Wednesday evening. All students who enjoy singing are invited to take part, and are asked to watch the bulletin board for further announcements concerning practice hours.

LOST IN THE SHUFFLE

The greatest defect of the short session of congress is the fact that many meritorious bills fail of passage simply because the shortage of time prevents them from getting a hearing.

A case in point is the bill now pending to repeal the war-time espionage act. This act—an emergency war measure—is still a law, although inoperative except for a section which gives the postoffice department the power to exclude from the mails any matter it considers seditious. Senator Walsh of Montana has introduced a repealer, which the Senate has passed; but the extreme congestion of the House calendar makes it probable that the repealer will simply die of neglect.

It would be a good thing for the country to get this law off its statute books. It is a pity that the legislative jam which is an inevitable accompaniment of the outmoded short session is apt to prevent its passage.

More than 73,000 miles in a New Ford

THE substantial worth of the new Ford is reflected in its good performance, economy and reliability. Its stamina and endurance are particularly apparent in sections where bad roads and severe weather put a heavy extra burden on the automobile.

In less than a year a new Ford Tudor Sedan was driven more than seventy-three thousand miles over a difficult route. The operating cost per mile was very low and practically the only expense for repairs was for new piston rings and a new bearing for the generator.

The car carried an average load of 1200 pounds of mail and was driven 250 miles daily. "The Ford has never failed to go when I was ready," writes one of the three mail carriers operating the car. "The starter did the trick last winter even at 34 degrees below zero. The gas runs about 20 miles per gallon. At times I pull a trailer whenever I have a bulky load."

Many other Ford owners report the same satisfactory performance. Every part has been made to endure — to serve you faithfully and well for many thousands of miles.

WTCC Wins Its Fight on Text Book Changes

Every correction suggested by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for "Advanced Geography," textbook used in the sixth and seventh grades of Texas public schools, has been accepted by Rand McNally Company, publishers of the book, and will be included in a reprinted edition now being made ready for the press.

This marks the second successful accomplishment in the effort of the W. T. C. C. to secure justice for Texas in the school books and officials of the organization are much gratified at the co-operation given the undertaking by the publishing concerns and by members of the Texas state textbook commission and board of education.

Corrections and changes presented by the regional chamber have already been made by the MacMillan Company in "Elementary Geography," the fourth and fifth grade text. Now an effort will be launched to get similar corrections in all school geographies used in the United States.

Proof sheets of tht pages in "Advanced Geography" on which the changes were requested have been received at the W. T. C. C. general office here and reveal that Texas, and especially West Texas, is much more fairly and accurately treated than in the heretofore distributed editions of the book. Now the student who uses "Advanced Geography" will be told that West Texas produces wheat, cotton, oil, gas, copper, gold and silver. Also he will learn that the use of power machinery is widespread in agricultural operations in West Texas and that the area has a large production of grain sorghum.

Further, the book will say that immense quantities of wheat are grown, milled and exported in Texas; that there has been a rapid development in western Texas and Oklahoma in recent years; that Texas produces nearly nine-tenths of the world's supply of sulphur and that the state ranks second in the production of rice.

On top of all the foregoing, the reprinted geography will give the "Great Plains" region of Texas credit for being one of the leading cotton growing regions of the United States.

The map carried in the geography up to now, which classed parts of the United States according to production and other parts according to physical characteristics, and on which all of Texas, west of the hundredth meridian, was designated either as the Great Plains region or as the Arid Intermountain plateau, has been changed and now shows that a part of the cotton belt extends all the way across West Texas and that the Panhandle area is in the winter wheat belt.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Since the beginning of the year much space has been given by newspapers and magazines to a discussion of the business and industrial outlook. Predictions of a rapid restoration of normal conditions are not being made nearly so freely as they were a years ago, yet expert opinion is in the main optimistic.

Reports from many industrial centers show that about 100,000 men were put back to work in automobile, steel, railroad and other industries in a single week, and further reports of increased forces have been of daily occurrence.

While so far those given jobs represent only a small percentage of the unemployed, it is encouraging that a start in the direction of industrial revival has been made.

In the meantime much is being done by governmental and other agencies in an effort to afford emergency relief to those who are actually suffering for the necessities of life; but this task is an enormous one, and distress is likely to be widespread for some time to come.

While it is generally conceded that recovery from the depression will be slow, many leaders believe that when normal times do arrive again the country will be on a sounder basis than ever before. That will certainly be true if all the people will heed the lessons of recent months and co-operate intelligently to avoid another orgy of overproduction, speculation and other excesses, such as that which brought about our present plight.

"Indeed," he returned smoothly. "Then if you give me the other half, that will cover my fee."—Wall Street Journal.

What does it mean when we have two Friday the 13ths on successive months? Let's hope it's no worse than that gone before.

Some fellows may think that it sure means something bad, because the next day your income tax is due.

I noticed a statement in the daily papers a few days ago that you could wait until Monday to pay your income tax. Tell us another joke. One good thing about Hoover Prosperity is that you don't have to pay any income taxes.

The young squirt in the back shop says that he is thankful for the fact that Congress has never decided to tax a person on his outgo, instead of his income.

Horrors! Friday the 13th. I lived over the last day of that kind but I have almost passed out since.

My old friend Farmer Hogfissel was in to see me a day or so ago and remarked that now Congress had adjourned and all the politicians were going home and if maybe we could have another election this summer we could all live thru the depression.

Panhandle Map To Be Placed In New York Exhibit

A pictorial map of the Panhandle of Texas, issued through the co-operation of the Amarillo and Canyon branches of the American Association of University Women, will be placed in a great exhibit of maps at Columbia University, New York.

This map was made by Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the art department of the West Texas State Teachers College, and 1000 copies were printed. On it are shown the old ranch headquarters, battle fronts and other points of interest as they were before 1880; the border of the map shows animals and objects characteristic of the region.

Mrs. Earl Wyatt of Amarillo, the state president of the A. A. U. W. in Texas, will take the map to Boston where it will be exhibited during the national convention in April. From there it will be taken to New York.

Houchin also killed a doe on his hunting trip. He was accompanied by Paul Smith, who bagged a doe and a buck, and by Mrs. Bob Smith, mother of the latter.—Prescott (Ariz.) paper.

Small Breeders' Dairy Show

The proposal of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Association to give free T-B tests of dairy cattle to be exhibited in the annual show to be held in Plainview April 6 to 9, is thoroughly in keeping with the policy of dairy development which the show and the association sponsoring it have pursued from the very inception of the show. It goes further than merely testing the animals to be displayed, but includes all animals in the herd of the exhibitor.

This will be expensive to the association, but the work can be done at less expense by it than by the individuals.

It is often the case that the small breeder or the individual farmer with a few head of good dairy cattle is not convenient to a veterinarian who is qualified to give the test. By grouping the breeders a circuit can be arranged for the veterinarian and the expense greatly reduced.

Thus the dairy show adds to its other instruction activities that of warning and advising of the danger of tuberculosis infection in dairy cattle. It brings the progress of the most advanced dairy areas of the Panhandle-Plains to those areas in which dairy development has just begun.

The assistance offered by the association in T-B testing is removing one of the greatest obstacles to the small breeder's showing.

Interest in the small breeder and a sane program of dairy expansion have been the outstanding characteristics of the Panhandle-Plains show. The whole scheme is shown by the fact that one hundred one exhibitors showed cattle at Plainview last spring.

There were fourteen different breeders who won the first awards in the fifteen classes for individuals. The four championships were won by four different breeders from four different counties and both junior champions were won by exhibitors who had only one animal in the show.

Surely there was never a show that had such a wide representation and a show where the awards were so widely distributed.

The Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show is fulfilling well its purpose—a show where the small breeder or the man who is just beginning may have an opportunity to exhibit his cattle in strong competition, yet not have to compete with the established breeder.

No wonder it has become one of the three leading cattle shows of the nation. There is nothing of exploitation about it. It is educational in the extreme and it is the greatest factor in extending dairying in Northwest Texas and its influence is felt even in the adjoining states of New Mexico and Oklahoma.—Plainview Daily Herald.

FARM PLANS FOR 1931

With in a few weeks plans for team operations for the coming crop season must be made, and, as always, those who adopt a well-balanced program will be better off at the end of the year than those who proceed in haphazard fashion.

In many cases it seems almost impossible to impress upon the farmer the importance of producing his own food and stock feed at home. A good garden, a milk cow or two, hogs to provide meat, some chickens and sufficient pasturage, hay and corn for his livestock would do more to relieve the farmer's condition than all the relief he may expect from the government or any other outside source.

Agricultural leaders, county agents, farm magazines and local newspapers have urged such a program for years, but in most cases with little result. But the failure to follow such a plan is the reason for much of the distress which now exists among the farm population.

It is impossible to make ends meet on the farm when nine-cent cotton and 80-cent wheat must be sold to buy food and feed which might be easily raised at home. By devoting more attention to the raising of food and feed, the acreage of the principal money crops would well be reduced, thus curtailing the surplus which causes low prices for what the farmer has to sell.

A good many farmers do not like advice, especially from a town or city source, but no thinking person can deny that this particular advice is sound. Those who act upon it will obtain more satisfactory results from their efforts.

Does a Watchmaker Use Mechanic's Tools . . . ?

Certainly not! Neither does the Texas Utilities Company use out of date equipment in servicing its customers.

Suppose your lights failed you when you were entertaining important guests? Suppose when you were ironing a shirt the electrical current stopped? Such might happen if this company at any time installed poor equipment, used inefficient workmen or old-fashioned methods. Instead we have made it a rule to use nothing but the best. Nothing is spared to see to it that you get DEPENDABLE electrical service at all times.

CACTUS CAL

Cactus went to the Fat Stock Show and "saw the elephant and heard the owl." There was sure a conglomeration of assorted people there. All the hotels and cow barns were full. As everything was free, Cactus sure enjoyed himself. Cactus can do anything it doesn't take money to do. What was funny was to see a fixed-up cowboy doing a two-step. Some people didn't know what they were doing but that didn't matter.

Cactus entered no stock this year due to the drouth and high registration prices. Kernel Augustus, P. D. Q., W. A. A., S. O. S., P. T. A. Tack of Amarillo city entered as fine a cow specimen as has been my luck to gaze over. This specimen was a shovel-footed, square headed, sway-backed piebald roan of a cross between a Guernsey and a nuisance. In the big auction Wednesday afternoon it brought fifteen dollars.

Once again the halls of C. H. S. are graced with female Daniel Websters, Patrick Henrys, and Benedict Arnolds. Not since the days of knee breeches have such literary wonders been amidst us and among us. What I want to tell you is that C. H. S. debaters beat our rivals, the Hereford Whitefaces in debate, the sport of kings. Thrice this year has Hereford bowed to our athletic teams and now the crown of all they bend to our literary prowess.

Another epidemic has struck our center of learning, that is when you fall skating has become the fad of our school. A delegation of about 40 students met on the night of February 27 and went skating. About 9 o'clock all congregated on the sidewalks and plaza south of W. T. S. T. C. and spent an enjoyable evening until 11 o'clock.

Coach Brady Calls Future Grid Men Out

Thirty-two boys are reporting for track every evening. A person at school can easily tell those who are coming out because most of those boys are so sore they can hardly walk. The more important track men are: Curtis Bell, mile; Willard Middleton, half-mile; Wilford Taylor, mile; George Brasuel, mile; D. B. Pearson, half-mile; Wayne Tucker, quarter-mile; Willie Shackleford, 220; Louis Upchurch, 220; Jimmie Burgan, 100-220; Cleo Wright, 100-220; Tommy Elliston, 100.

Coach Brady has required that all letter men of the football squad be out and anyone who wants to may report. There are high hopes of having a winning track team.

S. P. Q. R. Are Writing Themes For Tournament

The essay contest for the Latin tournament was held February 25. Both of the Latin classes participated in the contest. The essays were written without the aid of references.

The winning essay from the first year class with "Gaivs," by George Brewer, which received high compliments from the local judges. The essay taking second place was "What I Saw on a Recent Trip to Pompeii" by Curtis Bell.

Kathryn Robinson was the winner in the second-year class with her essay, "The World's Debt to Caesar." Viva Belle Cox won second place. Her essay was "A Belgian Woman's View of Caesar's Gallic Campaigns."

These essays were sent to Waco where they are entered in the state contest. The returns of these will not be known until the Latin tournament in April.

CELEBRITY CONTEST ENDS

The celebrity contest for selling annuals ended Wednesday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The seniors won the contest between the juniors and seniors, by twenty-one hundred votes. The contest between the freshmen and sophomores was a tie; so it was continued until 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The freshmen won the contest by eight hundred votes.

By winning the junior-senior contest, the seniors get to put their celebrities, Mildred Middleton and Wayne Tucker, in the annual. The freshmen will also get to put the pictures of their celebrities, Lura Ferne Brian and Wesley Williams, in the annual.

Clubs

The Latin Club met Tuesday, March 3rd. The club sang " Is! Io! Amnes Adsunt," "Heims," and "Adsumas Quod." After a short business meeting they played Latin games the rest of the period.

The Latin club and the second-year Latin class are glad to see Edwin Whitfield back after a long illness.

EL CIRCULO CASTELANO

The Spanish Club met Tuesday, expecting a good program and they were well pleased.

Maudeana Bishop told the story of "The Girl Who Stopped the Ship." The remainder of the period was taken up in playing "pabre gatito" or poor kitty, one of Jessie McDonald's favorite games. They found it impossible to make Miss Foster laugh, although several attempts were made.

The club wants to thank the school for the new Spanish books. Stories from these books have been told in the last two meetings, and have been thoroughly enjoyed.

C. H. S. TALKIES

The C. H. S. Talkies met and had their semi-monthly entertainment meeting. The program began with a dramatic poem, "How the News Was Carried from Ghent to Aix." The poem was read by Melva Gamewell and was enacted by Irving Gamewell, Dale Brown and Oliver Grabbe. After the program the final practice debates were held before the Hereford and Amarillo debates. She members of the debate teams are: Girls—Katy Lowe and Elizabeth Jameson; boys—George Gaede and Vincent Lockhart.

We have hopes that these teams will go to state in debates.

"C" CLUB

The "C" Club met March 3rd at the club period. Much regret was expressed by the old members because of the bad weather Saturday, February 28, which kept the pledges from doing their appointed work downtown which consists of leading dogs around, picking up snipes, shining shoes, selling pencils and other odd jobs.

The club dissoved in a committee of the whole and discussed the chapel program to be presented by the "C" Club, April 2nd. The program was decided on and the first rehearsal date was announced. From all reports it surely will be a splendid one.

TYPE HIGH

The Type Hi Club met for its regular business meeting Thursday. A news article was criticized and the rest of the period was spent in writing articles for the paper. Some of them were also criticized.

The Girls Glee Club will present a program entitled "An Easter Cantata" Thursday, April 2. This will be one of the features which the glee club expects to put on this year. They are under the direction of Miss Scott.

Chapel

Under the supervision of Miss Weter, their sponsor, the Sophomore Class of C. H. S. proved their ability at the presentation of a short pageant at last Thursday's chapel.

After singing their class song, entitled "On, You Sophomores," to the tune of "Oh, Wisconsin," Marie Landress announced that the student body would take an imaginary trip through Europe.

Following this, different students came forward dressed in various costumes, and, while a song of the native country was being played by Mrs. Foster, they designed a scene found in the country which they were representing.

As the concluding number, D. B. Pearson, dressed as Uncle Sam, designed the Statue of Liberty, after which everyone sang "America."

You have got to tell 'em if you want to sell 'em! ADVERTISE!!

Girl Debaters Win From The Hereford Team

The boys and girls debate teams of Canyon High School went to Hereford Thursday night, March 5th, to debate with the Hereford teams.

"Resolved, That a Substitute for Trial by Jury Should Be Adopted" was the question for debate. Both of our teams had the affirmative side of the question.

Our girls, Katy B. Lowe and "Bib" Jameson, won and our boys, Vincent Lockhart and George Gaede, lost by a vote of two to one.

Grade School Notes

The grade school is very proud of the seventh grade basketball team. Last Thursday afternoon the Seventh played the Training School and won. The pep squad pepped up this game and aided the boys in their march to victory.

Last Monday the Seventh Grade girls backed up by a peppy pep squad, played the Training School girls. The score was 22 to 6 in our favor.

The game was played in the administration building gymnasium.

The Training School is determined to do better. To prove this they have challenged the girls again. This time in our gym.

The starring player, Mabel Schmitz, threw every goal except one. However, if it had not been for the good playing of our guards, Marie Price and Ellen Dickinson, the ball would not have gotten to the hands of the centers, Wilma Price and Dora Mae Plaster.

SENIOR HOME ROOM

A trip to the palaces of the royal families of Europe was taken by the members of Miss Dickenson's home room. The first step was in Hall and at the palace of Princess Juliana. She was a very charming young princess, and entertained the class royally with her personality. It was found that she was wooed by many handsome and quite suitable young heirs to thrones of Europe. At the present she has scorned all offers and remains in single bliss.

The next place that was visited was the palace of the Premier De Riveria of Spain. He proved to be a very interesting man even though he is unpopular now in his native country.

The English royal family, King George and Queen Mary, are representatives of democracy compared to other royal families. However, they were very reserved, until King George's serious illness. Now they even sip tea with the ladies-in-waiting!

The brisk ringing of the bell brought us back safely to our own native haunt,—C. H. S., room 17.

FACULTY MEETING

A Teachers' Study Club, which meets every other Monday evening at the school building, has been recently organized by the teachers of Canyon High School. The programs are in the form of discussions, led each time by a different teacher.

A book, "The Practice of Teaching in the Secondary School," by Henry C. Morrison, professor of education in the University of Chicago, is now being studied. It deals with teaching from the fourth grade through high school.

TENNIS SEASON BEGINS

Those who wish to come out for tennis will have the opportunity to do so at an early date. Work on the tennis courts at the high school are nearing completion. These courts will be used by those practicing for the tournament. If tennis is represented as track is, a team of real tennis players will be available.

We would like to see a large number of students coming out for tennis.

"Thrift Week" is just another week in Scotland.

Classes

SENIOR

The regular meeting of the Senior Class was held March 4 with the nice president, Hosea Foster, in the chair. Several business matters were brought up before the class. A report of the meeting of Social Calendar committee was given by Alice Smith. The meeting adjourned. The Senior Class still seems to be quite happy this year, and is planning on doing a number of interesting things in the next ten weeks.

JUNIORS

A bake sale was proposed for Saturday, March 2, at the City Market.

All Juniors were urged to meet in front of the high school Sunday afternoon to take some snapshots for the annual. Everyone who can, bring a kodak well loaded with films.

Lucille Davault, a representative of the Senior Class, announced that all votes for the celebrities should be in by 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

SOPHOMORES

An interesting program was given the Sophomores during their meeting Wednesday by members of the class. Three poems were given, and Margaret Beard told an interesting story of the Independence of Texas. A portion of the period was also spent practicing on the chapel program that was given Thursday.

Margaret Tankersley was chosen as representative to help in the counting of the votes cast for the candidates.

FRESHMEN

On Wednesday, March 4, 1931, the Freshman Class met and Mr. Fox, their sponsor, read a story entitled "The Saturday Night Bath." They do not have programs of this kind often as the meeting is for business.

The officers of the Freshman Class are: Virginia Burgan, president; Cecil Pike, vice president, and Clara Sanders, secretary-treasurer.

DEBATE POSTPONED

The Canyon High School boys debating team were to debate with the boys team of Amarillo Friday night, March 6, 1931. The Amarillo team called to postpone the debates indefinitely on account of the bad weather.

Those wishing to enter in the declamation contests must enter a speech not longer than five minutes.

Those entering the extemperaneous speaking must give a speech on some current topic.

This contest is open to everyone in C. H. S. The winner from the local contest will receive a medal and be allowed to enter the Interscholastic League tournament, April 24th in Canyon.

"Working Boys" Give Pride To C. H. S. Studes

Canyon High School is very proud of the fact that many of its students are working outside of school hours at different trades.

From time to time the names of other students who are working will be published.

Bill Strain is working on "K" Truckline. He drives a truck to Amarillo part of the time.

Billie Robinson works at the Warwick Printing Company.

• • Blending makes it better

IN the test kitchen of a great soup maker, the gifted master-chef creates the blend of ingredients to produce the perfect soup. In a scent-laden room in a corner of France an expert blender of perfume invokes his highest genius that our sense of smell may be gratified. In a work-room fragrant with the aroma of many types of coffee beans, a highly-paid specialist concentrates his energies that we may be provided with a coffee blend to please our palates. Whether it's soup or soap, tobacco or tea, music or mustard . . blending is vital to the production of the best of each. Equally as vital, if not first in importance, is the knowledge and genius of the blender. He must know how.

The best gasoline, too, is blended. In the processes of a modern refinery three types of gasoline are produced. They are, Natural Gasoline, Straight-run Gasoline, and Cracked Gasoline. Each possesses certain desirable qualities necessary for perfect motor operation . . . but . . . no one of them possesses all these wanted characteristics.

So CONOCO Gasoline is a blend of the three. There is Natural Gasoline, to give quick starting. There is Straight-run Gasoline, to give power and long-mileage. There is Cracked Gasoline, with its desirable anti-knock quality. Just as carefully as the perfume blender at his delicate task, CONOCO refiners have developed their balanced blend of these three ingredients. Theirs is the gift of knowing how to merge the qualities of the three gasolines to create a balanced, triple-test fuel. One brand of coffee outsells all others because of the expertness of its blender. And so, with CONOCO Balanced-Blend Gasoline, the skill of the blender accounts for the popularity of the product. Stop today at the sign of the CONOCO Red Triangle and have your gas tank filled with this better motor fuel.

Neutral Toned Costumes in Vogue

THOUGH COLOR'S THE THING FOR SPRING, EVERY WARDROBE SHOULD HAVE AT LEAST ONE OUTFIT IN DISTINCTIVE BEIGE OR GRAY

BY HARRIET

EVERYBODY'S talking about the flair for color in spring clothes and their combinations of material.

To offset what might develop into too much of a good thing, every wardrobe will welcome at least one outfit in a neutral tone. Beige and gray are the two favorite tones for these important costumes.

Both colors have a distinction about them. Beige is the one that suits more people but if you can wear gray well you should make the most of it. Grays are elegant, there is no denying that. And you can wear gray indefinitely without getting tired of it the way you do of flamboyant tones.

For the neutral costume you can have a little touch of color that you can change to suit your whim. But always it should be chosen with the idea in mind of wearing it just as it is, with no extra touch of color needed.

Two important new fashions of spring which lend themselves admirably to the netural toned costume are the wrap-around frock and the suit.

Too much cannot be said about the wrap-around frock. It is ideal for the tailored girl, for the matron and for the little miss who likes her frilly collars and cuffs. It can be made smaller or larger more easily than any other type of costume.

A VERY smart version of the wrap-around frock is shown in a beige flat crepe. This particular dress gets away from any stiffness or an over amount of dignity by having a circular flounce to soften the severity of straight lines.

This dress wraps around clear over under the arm, giving the flair that usually goes with a jaunty little double-breasted cut. There is a shallow collar of a very new blue, one that is quite as much lavender as blue, which has a bit of lace for a vest to match. The beads, also blue, help emphasize the color. This collar can be removed.

The suit is of gray, the newest color for spring. If you wear it well, this is your year. This suit is of the new soft finished worsted, so exquisite this spring. The skirt has stitched pleats down almost to knee depth and from there side pleats flare to give side fullness. This gives quite an old-fashioned line to the suit. The jacket heightens this quaint effect, for it has a blouse to it. It is belted and has capelet sleeves.

With this a soft pink blouse makes a delectable color contrast. The hat of straw matches the suit in tone. So do the stockings, a marked change from the lingerie stocking vogue of last year.

Here are two important spring fashions which lend themselves admirably to the neutral toned costume. The beige wrap-around dress, left, has for contrast a pale blue collar, blue vestee and blue beads. The gray suit, right, is distinguished for its capelet sleeves and flared skirt with stitched pleats. The blouse is in pale pink.

FEBRUARY HONOR ROLL FOR THE HERD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION LISTS COWS OF SEVENTEEN HERDS

Fifty-eight cows in the county were placed on the honor roll of the Randall County Herd Improvement Association for the month of February. The high cow for the month was from the J. W. Watson herd and produced 62.0 pounds of butterfat.

Four cows from the Tierra Blanca Jersey Farm, the latest herd to be added to the association, were on the roll this month. The herd was added in January and only two cows made the roll for that month.

Seventeen herds in the county were listed on last month's roll. The herds of H. R. Fulton, O. H. Rahlfs, J. E. Dickenson, T. W. Duffel placed six each on the roll.

Fine Strain Of Leghorns Raised By R. Friemel

From the farm of Rudolph Friemel, two miles west of Umbarger, was produced some of the heaviest eggs known to be produced in the Panhandle was revealed when a dozen eggs from the flock of Mr. Friemel's White Leghorns, took first place for the premium offered by the Chamber of Commerce for the February Trades Day. The eggs weighed 33½ ounces.

The Friemel flock of English strain White Leghorns is one of the best in the country and is a thing of real interest on that farm. The flock is trap nested and a careful record is kept of the production of the hens. The eggs are carefully selected and the better graded ones are sold to hatcheries at a premium.

Mr. and Mrs. Friemel have been in the chicken business on an extensive scale for about two years. They feed a home-grown ration to their flock of between 500 and 600 hens and pullets. They state that they have had good production from their flock during the winter months, getting one and a half cases of eggs each day.

J. F. Love Has Fine Flock Of Buff Orpingtons

J. F. Love, who raises purebred Buff Orpingtons, brought to Canyon on the last monthly Trades Day of the Chamber of Commerce an 11 months old pullet selected from his block of 150 fine chickens, which weighed 10 pounds, to take the premium offered for the heaviest hen brought here on Trades Day.

Mr. Love has a flock of 150 Buff Orpingtons, which are fully tested. Mr. Love states that he gets around 100 eggs per day and that the most of these are sold at a premium to hatcheries and other chicken breeders.

SPRING GOOD SEASON TO BEGIN POULTRY FLOCKS

This spring is an ideal time in which to start with poultry. With a little care in selection, a well-bred flock of chicks may be obtained from a reliable hatchery or breeder. Feed costs will be lower this season than in many years past. By the time the pullets are ready to lay, egg prices will be on the upgrade, poultry authorities agree.

Limited capital should not stop the prospective poultry raiser or farmer from entering this field. A modest amount of money to invest in good chicks, a good brooder stove and a good brooder house, with enough to buy feed during the spring, and summer, is enough.

Spring is an excellent itme for starting the flock, for two reasons. First, the poultry-raiser has an opportunity to know his birds as they grow to maturity. By constantly checking their progress, he can have a fine flock of pullets in the fall and know all about his birds individually. Second, hatchery chicks offer the most satisfactory method of getting an early profit on the investment, since they can be raised in sufficient numbers to make a flock of pullets large enough to raise a good total income. The eggs from 100 pullets represent a definite daily income that can be measured in dollars and cents.

Flocks bred to lay of high quality strain will be the most profitable this year, poultry authorities declare. Profitable flocks are easy to obtain, since leading hatcheries of the United States have for several years operating together under the slogan "Hatchery Chicks for Greater Profits," to raise the quality of American farm flocks and to insure birds that will birng a good return on the invéstment.

"You really couldn't blame her"

Mrs. Peter Rabbit really couldn't be blamed for wanting to entertain on Easter. You can always have so much fun at Easter parties.

If Mrs. Rabbit felt the urge to entertain when she had only eggs to entertain with, she surely would find the pretty tallies and nut cups available now irresistible.

We think the Easter party goods will have a strong appeal for you too. Come in and get an early selection.

Our new Congress cards (75c) will be greeted by enthusiasm by your guests. And they are not only pretty, but they last well.

NEGRO MINSTREL PRODUCES FUN FOR EVERYONE

BUFFALO BAND PRESENTS RIOTOUS PROGRAM OF JOKES AND SONGS.

W. T. students and other Canyon people enjoyed an unusual program in the form of a negro minstrel given by the Buffalo Band Thursday night in the Education Building auditorium at 8:15.

The program began with a medley of songs by the entire group of "niggers" with solos by Emmett Smith, and accompanied by the orchestra organized for the occasion by Mr. C. E. Strain, director of the Buffalo Band. Ernest Cabe, as interlocuter, led the performers into a variety of jokes and "wisecracks" which kept the audience laughing throughout.

Special numbers presented were: "What's the Use of Crying," a bass solo, and "You're Driving Me Crazy," its encore, by Alfred Jameson; "Stay in Your Own Backyard," and "Tomorrow Is Another Day," tenor solos by Emmett Smith; "Sweet Miss Mary," tenor solo by C. W. Batchelder; "Negro Baptism," and "Not Me," dramatic reading by C. W. Batchelder; "Listen to the Mocking Bird," and "When the Organ Played at Twilight," bird-whistling solos by Joe Hill, Jr.; "Boola Boola," comic vocal solo, and "I Miss a Little Miss," saxaphone solo by Robert Jarrett; "Lasus Trombonus," and an encore, trombone stunt solos by Charlie Kiker; "Give Yourself a Pat on the Back," and "Yours and Mine," tenor solos by Alvis Yarborough; a mouth organ solo dedicated to Miss Virginia Murray of the demonstration school, and played most effectively by Dr. Harris M. Cook, alias Mister Jones; "My Old Southern Home," and "Sweetheart of My Student Days," sung by the college quartet consisting of Alvis Yarborough, Alfred Jameson, Noel Gollehon, and Emmett Smith; and a "nigger jig" by Judge Landers.

Others who participated in making the minstrel the good show that it was were Malcolm Hunt, Winston Savage, Ray Robbins, and Reece Hough, all members of the band who played the parts of negroes. The orchestra was composed of Charles Strain, clarinet; Martha Strain, piano; C. E. Strain, clarinet and director of the entire show; George Heard, trombone; Margaret Justine, violin; Meredith Ashby, violin, and Virginia King, flute.

Other members of the band acted as ushers, and had as true a job as the rest due to the fact that the house was full.

Travels of a Letter are Interesting as Shown by Many Postmarks on Envelope

"All Aboard," called the conductor of the 7:10 train preparing to go to Amarillo on November 13, 1930. The people boarded the train, and a bag of mail was deposited in the mail car. In that bag lay a letter, addressed to Mr. Chang I. Shang, Columbia University, New York City, and it is this letter which is the occasion for this story. The letter was written by Mr. F. E. Savage, a member of the Peabody Club of W. T. S. T. C.

Along with thousands and thousands of others, it traveled to New York, arriving there at 12:30 p. m. on November 18, 1930, and of course being sent to the Columbia University postoffice in search of Mr. Shang. There it found that the said Mr. Shang had evidently been seized with wanderlust and had left a forwarding address to Loshen, China.

So the letter resumed its journey, and finally arrived in Losden, sometime in December. But Mr. Shang did not appear to claim his mail and after being stamped with various unreadable Chinese postal instructions, it proceeded to Shanghai. Why it did not go to the dead letter office at Changhai will always remain a mystery, but there it did not go. Instead, several more Chinese post marks were applied to its already decorated face and it started back to the United States on January 26, 1931. Exactly when it arrived is not known, but on it was stamped in bold blackfaced letters "U. S. charge to collect, three cents." Perhaps it was Fate that allowed the letter to return to the Plains of Texas without the necessary postage; because finally, tattered and dirty, with postal directions stamped on it in every imaginable color, and a piece of Chinese paper pasted on its poor mutilated face, it arrived in Canyon March 4, 1931.

Mr. Gene Whitman brought it to Mr. Shaw's office, where Mr. Shaw opened it to see who had sent it, for there was only the Peabody Club return address on the envelope. Seeing the scrawl of Mr. Savage, Mr. Shaw immediately carried the precious, worn-out missive to the sender, who now has it in his possession.

After three months and nineteen days of travel it bears seven Chinese postmarks, a forwarding address, four dates, three reasons for non-delivery, a slogan "Please address your mail to street and number," two small red circles in which are printed "T., N. Y. and "Centimes, 1'-'," respectively, a postage-due stamp, a piece of Chinese newspaper, and a return address.

MURDER TOTALS IN U. S. INCREASING IN CITIES

Criminal violence in the United States is still on the increase. Figures gathered by William L. Chenery show that the total number of homicides has gone up more than 33 per cent in 16 years.

In 1912 the death rate due to homicide was 6.6 in every 100,000 of population. In 1928 the rate was 8.8, or exactly a third higher.

"Criminal violence causes far more deaths today than fifteen years ago," says Mr. Chenery. "The increase is an evidence of an appalling breakdown in respect for the law.

"During these same 15 years, laws in this country generally have been made more drastic. The so-called Baumes laws of New York are typical. Penalties have been added to penalties. If furious severity had power to prevent crime we should have become a law-abiding people.

"The truth is that severe penalties seldom deter criminals from violence. The explanation is that juries will not inflict punishment which seems too rigorous. Rather than apply the law they will liberate the prisoner.

"The criminal does not fear uncertain punishment. If there is a chance to escape paying for his crime, the potential criminal will gamble on getting away. In this country the chances favor the criminal."

In 31 large American cities 2,419 homicides were reported in 1929. The rate was 10.1—much higher than for the country as a whole.

The increase in the number of homicides in the big cities between 1900 and 1929 was nearly fourfold, while the increase in the rate for each 100,000 of population increased from 5.1 to 10.1, almost doubled. New York reported 425 violent killings and Chicago 401 in 1929.

D. 1930, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1269, wherein the Panhandle Construction Company, a corporation, is Plaintiff, and S. G. Umbarger, and the heirs and legal representatives of the said S. G. Umbarger, whose names and addresses are unknown, are Defendants, and said petition alleging that the City of Canyon in Randall County, Texas, is a municipal corporation and was duly incorporated at all times mentioned, which had at such times adopted the general paving laws by election and ordinances, and that prior to January 30th, 1928, S. G. Umbarger was the owner of Lot 12, Block 57, City of Canyon, in said county, and is now the record owner thereof; and that at and prior to the last named date the Governing Body of the City of Canyon had determined that certain streets should be graded, paved and drained in accordance with the plans and specifications on file with said city, and on said date entered into a contract with the plaintiff to so improve said streets, especially that part of Seventh Avenue abutting said lot, and agreed in the contract that if at the hearing it be determined that the cost of improvement chargeable to said lot would enhance the value thereof; that on the completion of said work it would issue its assignable certificate to plaintiff in the sum of $139.20, the estimated cost, which should be payable in six equal annual installments, the first due 10 days after completion of said improvement, and one-sixth thereof at one, two, three, four and five years from date of completion, all payments bearing 8 per cent annual interest, and further providing that if there be default in any payment the holder of same might mature the same and have a reasonable attorney's fees and cost of collection, and that said indebtedness should be a first and prior lien upon said property and a personal charge against the owner thereof; that notice of such hearing was given and the hearing was had, and on March 3rd, 1928, it was determined that the improvement would enhance the value of said lot to the extent of the estimated cost; that thereafter plaintiff completed said improvement according to the contract which was accepted by the said city, and on the 9th day of September, 1928, a certificate as before mentioned was issued in the sum of $139.20, of which plaintiff is the owner; that the installment due 10 days after completion and the one due in September, 1929, and the one due in September, 1930, have matured, and are unpaid, as well as all interest; that plaintiff has matured the remaining installments and placed said certificate with an attorney for collection, and that a reasonable fee therefor is $100.00, and plaintiff asks judgment for its principal, interest and attorney's fees; that same be declared a lien upon said lot, that the lien be foreclosed as of January 30th, 1928, and at all times thereafter, the property sold, and the proceeds applied to the payment of plaintiff's debt, and for such other and further relief that plaintiff may be entitled.

"Please, folks....won't somebody help a little fellow like me?"

"Gee, folks, all I did was chase a cat. I wasn't going to hurt it either—honest. And then the darn thing got away after leading me a merry chase. Now I'm lost.

"Gee, but my master will be worried. And my pretty little mistress is crying, I bet. Won't somebody give a little pooch like me a hand and show me the way to go home?

"Here, just look at the tag on my collar. My name's Corky, you see. Swell name, hey? Now I'll tell you what to do. The folks love me almost as much as I love them and I'll bet fifty swell cats to a worn out soup bone that you'll find them advertising for me in The Canyon News.

"You see, I've heard master talk about The News Classified Ads many times around the house. He almost has as much confidence in them as he has in me. I know the folks bought our swell warm kitchen stove at a real bargain by reading an ad in The News. My mistress found her ring by running an ad in The News, and when master wanted to sell the car, he found a buyer in the same way. Boy, oh boy, did I have fun barking at the people who came to look it over.

"So, if you'll do a guy a favor and look in The News I'll be ever so much obliged. And think how happy you'll make my little mistress. I can feel her hugging me now. And imagine all the fun I'll have mussing up the house. It must be TERRIBLY neat by this time.

"Give a pup a lift, will you? If you do, I'll do you a favor with this tip. When you turn to THE NEWS CLASSIFIED ADS, look and see all the ways to save and make money. I remember master saying that if there's anything you want to buy or want to sell, a Classified Ad in the News is the quickest and best way to get in touch with the right people."

Know This Good Friend Better

Natural gas is a community builder; it draws industries, increases property value, and is one of the cheapest necessities you buy.

Natural Gas! A plentiful, dependable supply of Natural Gas—the cheapest industrial fuel available anywhere. Taking the country over, there are comparatively few places that can offer natural gas—so it is a real advantage.

To attract industries — it means a steady growth for the community, more people, more business, more prosperity, increased property values.

And, not to be overlooked is the convenience, cleanliness and cheapness of Natural Gas used in your home for heating and cooking.

As your Natural Gas distributing Company, we are happy to be able to contribute to the growth of your community, and to your personal comfort, by rendering as near as perfect gas service as is humanly possible to give.

HOTELS POPULAR AS WRITERS' WORKSHOPS

Hotel rooms are becoming increasingly popular as workshops for playwrights, novelists, poets and magazine writers, according to Margaret A. Barnes, president of the National Hotel Housekeepers Association. More and more, the best sellers among plays and books are being written in hotels.

The reason, according to Mrs. Barnes, is the perfect privacy which is offered by the modern hotel. "If a person really wants solitude, there's no better place to find it," she says. "Here is a self-contained work room, as serene and isolated as though it was a tower shut off by a moat,—as secluded as a hermit's cave on a mountain top. For instance, in the detached quietude of the busy New York hotel where I work, there have been hundreds of musical scores, plays, books and short stories produced during the past year.

"When anyone comes under our care that we know is creating something special like that, everybody takes the greatest pride in making the service just right to help along the muse. Days go by when we scarcely see the inspired one. Sometimes just a gentle tapping of the typewriter is all that tells what is going on.

"Oftener than not we never know just how good or how unworthy the child is that has been born under such circumstances."

Man's life was saved by a Long Distance call

that went through fast

"Emergency!" a voice shouted. "Get Raymond Ditmars, quick . . . New York, Fordham 5560!"

Molly Malone, long distance operator, did not know the speaker was George Vierheller, Director of the St. Louis Zoo. She did not know that nine minutes earlier Marlin Perkins, curator of reptiles, had been bitten by a deadly Gaboon viper.

She did not know that Ditmars, curator of reptiles at the New York Zoo, is one of the few authorities on the treatment of American snake bites.

All she knew was that it was an emergency!

"I'll do my best," said Molly. "Hold the line."

In New York, three or four minutes later, Ditmars lifted his telephone receiver.

"Perkins has been bitten by a Gaboon viper," he heard Vierheller say. "We have injected serum. We want to know how far we can go—what kinds of serum to use, how much, and at what intervals."

Concisely, Ditmars gave directions—the sure, definite directions of the expert.

"It's serious," he concluded, "but you must pull him through."

Perkins did pull through*. . . Today he is back at work in his laboratory. Scars, marking the incisions in his left arm, are the only evidence of his ordeal.

On ordinary calls, long distance is just as speedy, just as dependable. If you give the number of the telephone you are calling, in most cases you will be connected while you hold the line. It's like telephoning across the street.

And you can talk 100 miles for 60 cents.

*Dr. Forest H. Staley, St. Louis authority on snake poisons, took charge after emergency treatment was given, conferred twice more by telephone with Ditmars — pulled Perkins through. — See Bulletin of Anti-Venin Institute of America, Vol. III, No. 2, July, 1929.

Short School

other half was devoted to games in which all participated. Those who remained in town over night were given an extra class period at seven each evening.

Games suitable for social gatherings, songs, and plays were emphasized. Lessons were given in simple stage make-up, and the students were given lists of phonograph records and songs and plays which could be secured and used to promote the social side of such organizations as 4-H clubs, P. T. A's, dairy clubs, community clubs and others.

The last session this afternoon closed with an open forum discussion of all the subjects considered, community singing and the presentation of two plays.

The plays presented were "The Heritage," with the following cast: Mother Brown, Lelia O'Neal, Shamrock; Father Brown, Mrs. Frank Roberson, Lockney; Lucy, Buena Weems, Mickey; Jimmy, W. J. Hill, Jr., Bushland; Pike, Viola Jones, Wheeler. Student director for this play was Mrs. S. M. Lester, Floydada; property lady, Mrs. Lillian Wood, Kress; costumes, Mrs. W. R. Thornton, Shamrock.

The second play was "Mother Minnetonka" with R. L. Golleher of Floydada as student director, and Alline Wood as property lady and costume designer.

The cast included Night Fawn, Alma Holmes, Floydada; Gray Lance, Carl Broyles, Bushland; Big Pine, S. M. Lester, Floydada; Running Coyote, Richard Ford, Floydada; Red Eagle, Lynn Gott, Shamrock; White Ghost, Ed Holmes, Floydada.

The plays had to be cast largely from those who were spendng the nights in Canyon. Many of the short course students went home at night. Mr. Knapp stated that the plays were unfinished, but were presented to show what could be done in a short time with inexperienced players.

Practically all of the visitors left town this afternoon, enthusiastic over their course and hoping that it may be repeated next year.

Canyon Scouts Plan for Tri-State Meeting

The Boy Scouts of Canyon, under the leadership of Scout Master Boone McClure, and assistant scoutmaster, Lewis Shirley, are preparing for the Second Annual Field Day and Camporee to be held at the Tri-State Fair grounds in Amarillo, April 24 and 25.

Last year the Canyon troop carried off most of the cups and they are hoping to retain their winnings for another 12 months.

Earl Cobb will be in charge of the Canyon Camp, Tommy Elliston of inspection and drill, Lewis Shirley of first aid, Winston Savage of signalling, Boone McClure of nature study, Lewis Shirley of fire building, Boone McClure of knot tying, Joe Hill Jr., of archery.

Canyon will have terms in all these events; in some events more boys than are necessary for a team are competing locally and the best will be chosen for the field day contests.

Glenn Gillespie, Hershel Davis, Lee Beeson, Clark Ask and Ralph Higdon are working on first aid.

Bill Cone, Don Savage, Leo Duflot, Jackie Pitts, Hampton Lisle, J. R. Huckabee, Glenn Gillespie and Jack Burnett are working on signals.

Louis Upchurch, Glenn Gillespie, Sam D. Burton, Jr., Bill Cone and Eugene Davis are trying to excel in nature study.

Hampton Lisle, Leo Duflot, Lee Beeson and Glenn Gillespie want honors in fire building.

Don Savage, Ben Slaughter and Leslie Dunlap are also working under fire building, their tools to be flint and steel.

Louis Upchurch, Leo Duflot, Jackie Pitts, Don Savage and Ralph Higdon want to demonstrate what can be done in four minutes in the way of knot tying.

Louis Upchurch, Clark Ash, Jackie Pitts and Don Savage are working for the archery trophies.

The field day is the most important event in the scout's year, and the Canyon boys are working hard to show their home town that they can bring home prizes in competition with boys of other towns, according to Assistant Scoutmaster Shirley.

LOUIS WOLHEIM

It is the queer fate of the actor to be remembered, not so much for himself as for certain characterizations that he has given which have found a warm place in the heart of the public.

So it is that Louis Wolheim will probably be remembered by most of us, not as Louis Wolheim, but as Katczinsky, the uncouth German infantryman of "All Quiet on the Western Front," and as Captain Flagg, the officer of marines in the stage production of "What Price Glory?"

Those two characterizations got from Wolheim what might be called perfect performances; perfect, in that it is hard to see how they could possibly have been improved on. As long as there are living people who saw either one of those two fine shows, Louis Wolheim will not be forgotten. But it will not be Wolheim himself that we remember. It will be, rather, the Katczinsky and the Captain Flagg that he created for us.

ABOUT OVERDRAFTS

OVERDRAFTS ARE NOT GOOD FOR THE PERSON CREATING SAME NOR FOR THE BANK. There are plenty of reasons why a depositor's account should never be overdrawn. The principal reason is: That an overdraft is in a way a forced loan and tends to detract from one's credit rather than add to it.

Overdrafts may sometimes be honored but such transactions usually serve to remind the bank granting same that correct business methods are not being followed.

Both the National and State Banking Departments look upon the granting of overdrafts with disfavor, and we hope that you will be considerate of our position and do your part in order that we may not be subjected to any criticism along this line.

The First National and the First State are here to render you the best of their service in every way possible, and certainly we want to be accommodating—but we do not desire overdrafts—in a way, unsecured loans that detract from your credit, injure our own standing and endanger the interests of our depositors.
